Form W-4 (2016)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2016 expires February 15, 2017. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note: If another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return, you cannot claim exemption from withholding if your income exceeds $1,050 and includes more than $350 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends).

Exceptions. An employee may be able to claim exemption from withholding even if the employee is a dependent, if the employee:

- Is age 65 or older,
- Is blind, or
- Will claim adjustments to income; tax credits; or itemized deductions, on his or her tax return.

The exceptions do not apply to supplemental wages greater than $1,000,000.

Basic Instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earners/multiple jobs situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you can claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 505 for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax. If you have pension or annuity income, see Pub. 505 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 505 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 505 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2016. See Pub. 505, especially if your earnings exceed $130,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Future developments. Information about any future developments affecting Form W-4 (such as legislation enacted after we release it) will be posted at www.irs.gov/w4.

EMPLOYEE'S WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCE AND STATUS CERTIFICATE INSTRUCTIONS

(NOTE: References to "married", "unmarried", and "spouse" also means "in a civil union", "not in a civil union", and "civil union partner", respectively.)

MARITAL STATUS—If you are legally separated from your spouse under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, check the Single box.

If you file as head of household on your tax return, you are treated as Single for withholding tax purposes. However, an additional withholding allowance may be claimed for this filing status.

NUMBER OF WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCES—Do not claim more than the correct number of withholding allowances. However, if by claiming the correct number of withholding allowances you still expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld, you may increase the amount withheld either by claiming fewer withholding allowances or by entering into an agreement with your employer to withhold an additional dollar amount.

Note: Hawaii law does NOT allow "exempt" status for withholding purposes.

NONWAGE INCOME—If you have a large amount of nonwage income, from sources such as interest or dividends, you should consider making estimated tax payments using Form N-1 or you may find that you owe additional tax at the end of the year.

TWO-EARNER/TWO JOBS—If you have a working spouse or more than 1 job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only 1 Form HW-4. This total should be divided among all jobs. Your withholding will usually be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the HW-4 filed for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed for the others.

FILING THE CERTIFICATE—You must file this form with your employer or your employer must withhold tax from your wages as if you were single and claimed no withholding allowances.

FILING A NEW CERTIFICATE—You SHOULD file a new certificate if you get married or are entitled to claim more withholding allowances. You MUST file a new certificate within 10 days if ANY of the following occurs:

- (a) If you are divorced or legally separated.
- (b) If your spouse, for whom you have been claiming a withholding allowance, commences claiming his or her own withholding allowance on a separate certificate.
- (c) If a dependent for whom you claimed a withholding allowance no longer qualifies as a dependent.

You MUST file a new certificate on or before December 1 in case of the death of your spouse or the death of a dependent, unless such event occurs in December.

WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCE FOR AGE—You may claim an additional withholding allowance for age if you are at least 65 years old and no one can claim you as a dependent. If you are married and filing a joint return, you may also claim an additional withholding allowance if your spouse is at least 65 years old, no one else can claim your spouse as a dependent, and your spouse is not already claiming such withholding allowance for himself / herself on a Form HW-4.

HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD—Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your qualifying child or any other person who is your dependent.

PENALTIES—Penalties are imposed for willfully supplying false or fraudulent information or for willfully failing to supply information.

CERTIFIED DISABLED PERSON—See the section, "What Is Not Subject to Withholding" in Booklet A, Employer's Tax Guide.

NONRESIDENT MILITARY SPOUSE—Under federal law, the State is prohibited from subjecting the income received by a service member's nonresident spouse for services performed (i.e., wages) in Hawaii to Hawaii's income tax beginning tax year 2009.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION—Contact your employer or the Department of Taxation at 808-587-4242 (toll-free at 1-800-222-3229).

UNIVERSITY
WEST O'AHU

Rights & Responsibilities of Student Employees

As a student employee, you have rights and responsibilities. The following is a summary of the important information as well as recommended guidelines as a student employee at UH-West Oahu, which you can find on the APM A9.880 document found on the main page of your student employment access screen. To view the complete policies and procedures, The University of Hawaii has approved Policies and Procedures on Student Employment (Administrative Procedures Manual A9.880).

1. NON-DISCRIMINATION: It is the policy of the University of Hawaii to prohibit discrimination in employment due to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, political affiliation, handicapping condition, veterans or marital status.
2. MINIMUM CREDIT LOAD: Student assistants must be enrolled on at least a half-time basis in order to be eligible for a job on campus. You must inform your supervisor if you withdraw from classes and are no longer registered for a minimum of six credit hours.
3. SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS: You must be making satisfactory academic progress to keep your job on campus, i.e. maintaining at least a 2.0 GPA. You will be terminated from your job at the end of any semester in which your grade report shows "unsatisfactory progress".
4. CLASSIFICATION AND PAY SCHEDULE: The Student Services Specialist will determine your classification and pay, based on your job description.
5. LIMIT TO HOURS WORKED: Student assistants may not work more than 20 hours a week during regular semesters, regardless of how many campus-positions the student holds. Summer and vacation periods are excluded from this rule. Please note that it is not recommended that the student employee work more than one position at a time.
6. TIME SHEETS: Student employees are expected to maintain and submit all online and paper time sheets to their respective supervisors in a timely manner, in order to have their paychecks processed by payroll on-time.
7. WORK PAST 6:00 PM AND PREMIUM PAY: You must have your supervisor's permission to work past 6:00 PM. You are usually entitled to premium pay of an additional 60 cents per hour if your work is performed after this time.
8. OVERTIME PAY: You will be entitled to overtime pay if your supervisor requests that you (a) work more than eight hours in a work day; (b) work more than 40 hours per week; or (c) work on any day which is a legal holiday.
9. PAY RAISES: You will be given a yearly step increment on the anniversary date of initial hire, last promotion, or last step increase, provided that you have worked a minimum of 400 hours in the position.
10. REST PERIOD: You are entitled to a ten minute rest period with pay for each four hours of continuous work, and a lunch break without pay of not less than 30 minutes as appropriate.
11. WORK ATTIRE: Generally, students are expected to dress appropriately for their job duties. Positions requiring student employees to interface with the public or other staff/faculty within an office setting should aim to dress modestly in casual office attire. Students performing manual labor must also dress in safe and modest attire that would be considered accommodating to their position and job tasks performed. For further clarification, students are advised to check with their direct staff supervisor on what may be considered appropriate for their unit/division.

12. ABSENCE: If you are not able to work your scheduled time, you should notify your supervisor as early as possible in order to insure coverage for your position. Some supervisors may require the student employee to plan and designate an appropriate alternate in his/her place, therefore each student employee should follow the protocol that is specific to his/her division or unit.
13. WORK DURING EXAMINATION PERIOD: Your supervisor may NOT require you to work when you are scheduled for an examination, and shall make every reasonable effort to rearrange your work schedule for the period of final examinations and for one full week prior to the final examination period. You are responsible for informing your supervisor about your class schedule and your examination schedule.
14. TERMINATION: The first 90 days of your employment is considered a training period and you may be terminated at any time during that period. After the training period, student assistants who are terminated will be notified by their supervisors in writing at least two weeks prior to termination date, unless it is determined that there is due cause for immediate dismissal. If you feel you have been unfairly terminated, you may file a grievance. (See #16 below).
15. APPOINTMENT PERIODS: Length of employment is designated based on availability of funds. The employer and the university designates the right to adjust appointment periods as needed due to changes in funding, and will make every opportunity to notify the student in advance if the appointment period may require an earlier termination than what is listed in the student's work agreement.
16. VOLUNTARILY ENDING YOUR EMPLOYMENT: You should give your supervisor two weeks written notice if you plan to terminate your job.
17. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE: You should attempt to resolve the grievance on an informal basis with your immediate supervisor first. If this fails, you may pursue the matter through a formal grievance procedure. See the Student Services Specialist.
18. DRUG FREE WORKPLACE: The University of Hawaii is in compliance with the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988, which sets forth requirements for continued receipt of federal funds. The University of Hawaii has adopted Executive Policy E11.210, Illegal Drugs & Substance Abuse, which establishes a guide for University action that responds to health concerns and is consistent with the mission and role of the University. In conformance with existing law, University students/employees are not permitted to manufacture, distribute, possess, use, dispense, or be under the influence of illegal drugs as prohibited by State and Federal Law, at University-sponsored or approved events, on University property, or in buildings used by the University for education, research, or recreational programs. Students/employees found in violation of this part shall be subject to appropriate federal or state law and disciplinary provisions contained in the campus Student Conduct Code. All student employees agree, as a condition of employment, to abide by this policy and further to notify the University within five days of any conviction for a criminal drug statute offense occurring in the workplace. Full disclosure can be found at www.hawaii.edu/ohr/docs/drugfree.htm

I certify that I have read and understand the above rights and responsibilities. I also understand that the above is a summary of the policy posted on the SECE website.
